DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim 13, 16-18, 20, 32, 35, 36, 38-46 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kluft et al WO 97/24484 in view of Barton et al GB 2248774 and/or Lowes 3284395 and/or Morrison 3959556 and/or Cox GB 2309461.

Applicant's arguments filed 2/7/6 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Kluft addresses the instant problem, with the instant fibers and fungicides, but, not the incorporation in the spinning dope or fiber manufacture and according to applicant, with no demonstration of efficacy over control. Barton is also stated to fail to provide efficacy, but Barton utilizes the instant fibers, fungicide and method of incorporation, thus should produce the same results. Even if Barton did not realize their method could also control bed mites, and Kluft did not realize alternative incorporation into fibers, of the fungicides, the method steps are the same and so would be the results as the instant invention. Barton does state incorporation is superior to coating, thus, the artisan would be motivated to so provide, given the two references at the time of the instant invention. Examiner's position is that given the instant spinning of fiber with fungicide is known, and the products so formed are bedding and coverings of cushion and upholstered articles, then the efficacy against bed mites must result, even if the products were made to provide bacteriocidal and fungicidal efficacy. Cox is generic (page 4, line 14-antifungal textile articles) thus combinable with the other antifungal references known to the artisan.

As to the rejection over Cox, upon reconsideration, we agree that given the only inclusion of flooring, except that of the tent, or generic other textile use, absent a recognition of bed mite concern, Cox fails as anticipation.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
